Baseball As Told By Larry McCormick and Okie Harold

When I was small I played on little league teams and was very enthusiastic about playing baseball at the age of 9. It was a very good background for my future baseball career. Now I think of Baseball year round. During the season I train by lifting weights, running, not to mention grass drill and monkey roll. When not in season a person must train to stay in shape for the oncoming season.

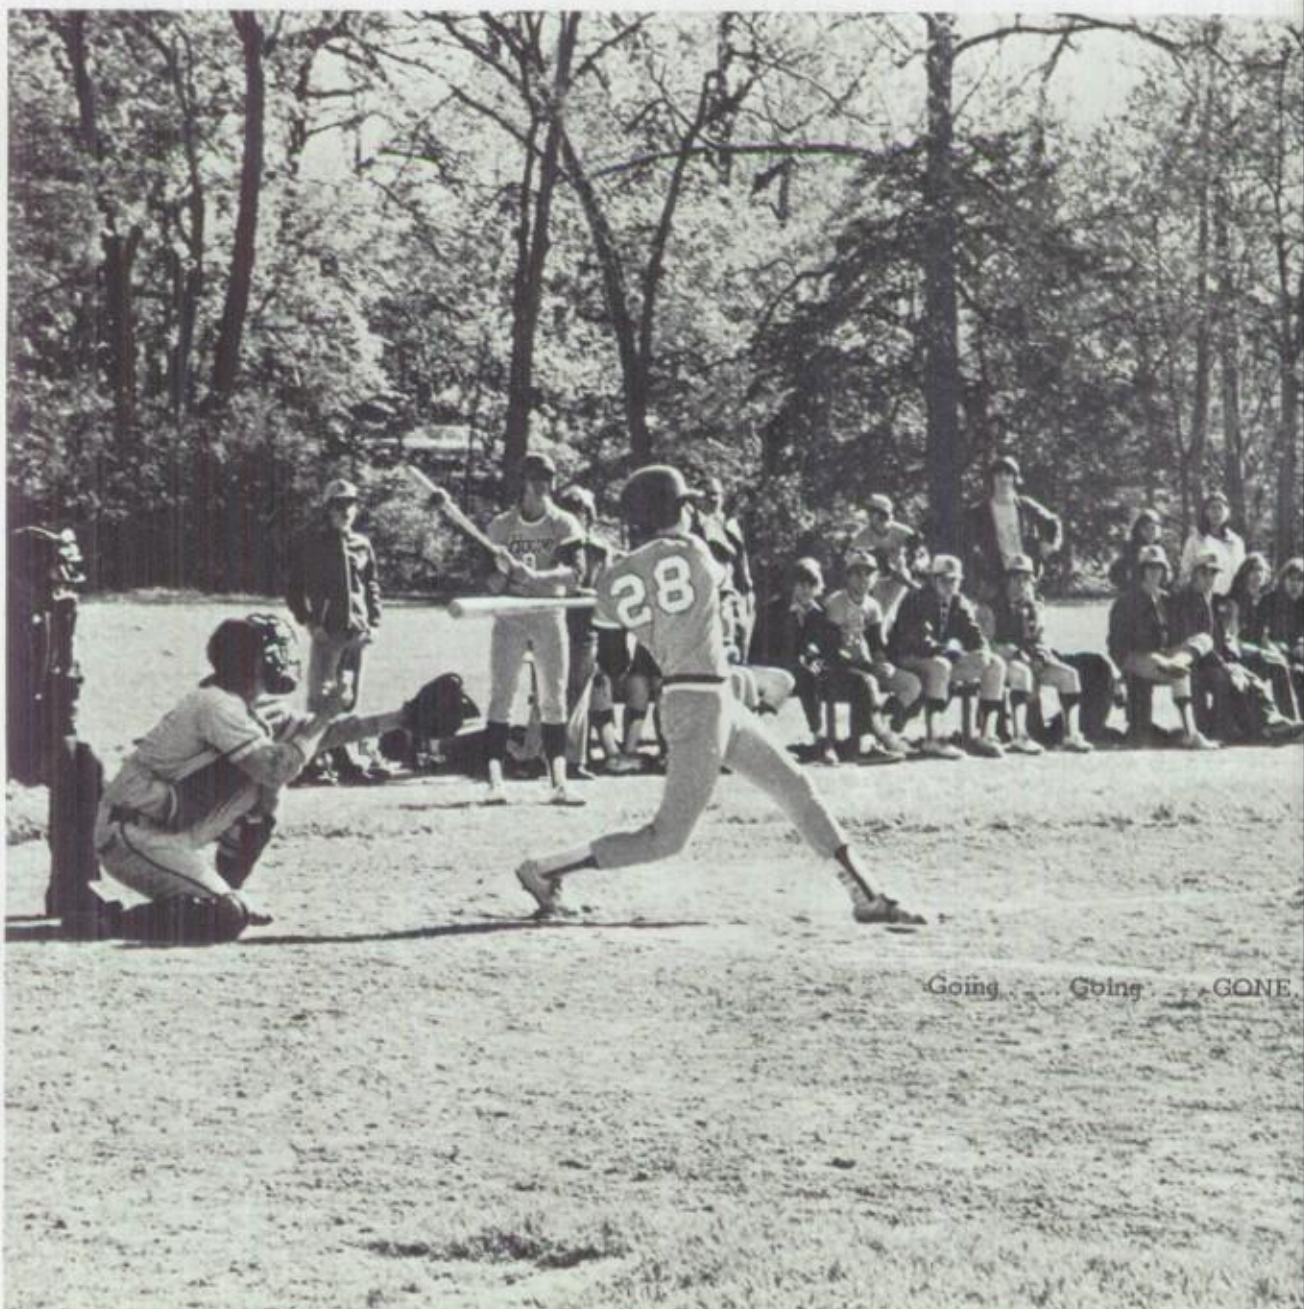

With so many sports going coed now the question of girls Baseball is being raised. According to one baseball player girls can play "if there are coed locker rooms." A teammate said "the (girls) sure as heck can't play the level of baseball a man does."

I like playing baseball because I feel that it is important for a person to show his inner emotions in the field of Baseball.

Track As Told By Gary Selke

Track events that I participate in are the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, and the 880 yard relay, the 440 yard dash, and the high jump. Before running, I run one dash full speed, watch the other events so I don't get nervous, and listen to the starter so I can tell how his starting count goes.

After you win a race, you feel different, depending on who you run against. If you're running against someone who's supposed to beat you, you feel great. But if it's someone you are supposed to beat, it doesn't mean that much to you. When I come in second, I'm mad at myself because I know I didn't try as hard as I could.

Of the events I'm in, I feel high jump requires more skill and practice because you have to learn how to take off, learn your steps, and how to land without hurting yourself. The one track meet that I felt I did exceptionally well in was the Northwest meet, because I won my first blue ribbon. In fact, I won three blue ribbons!

Track is not publicized as well as the other sports, and I think that I could do better with more spectators present, because we would have more support.

Jim Herman waits patiently for his putt to be completed.

Mark Thomas is ready to slam the ball back to his opponent.

Dave St. John wonders if his famous putt will be a successful one.

Tennis As Told By Tom Barnard

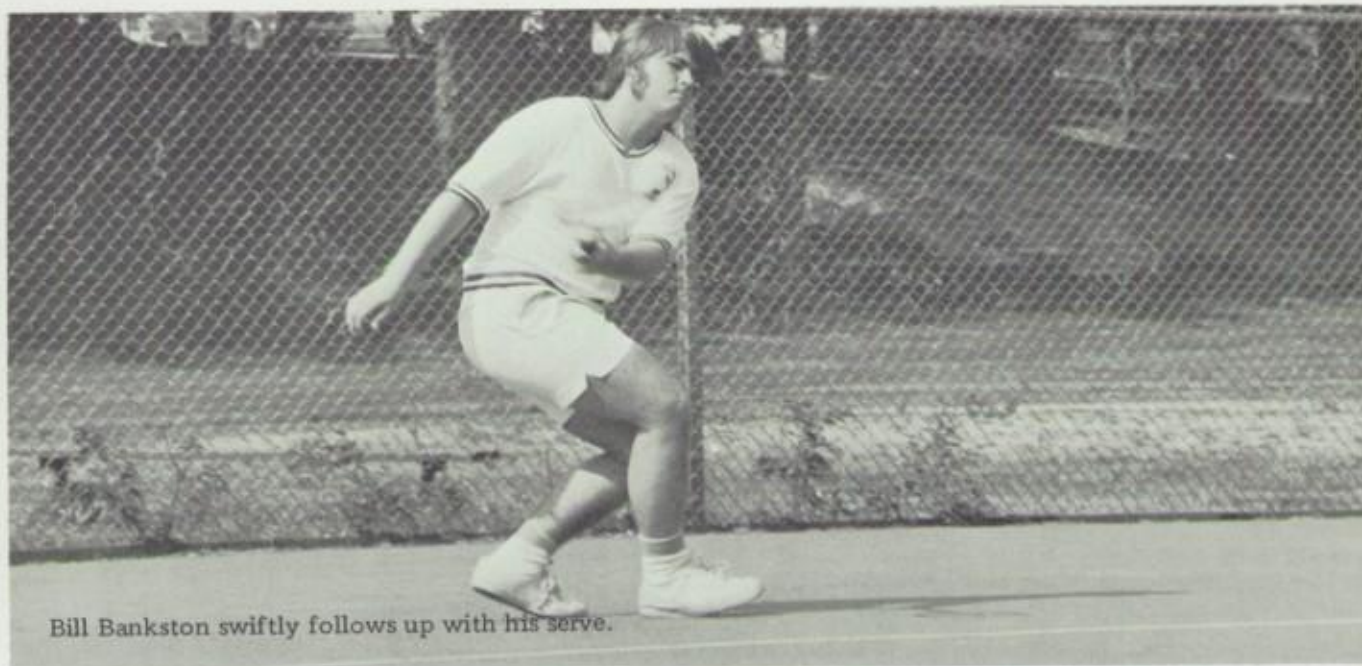

Howe did very well this year. Howe's tennis team has never had a losing season. The team had a 9-1 season with our only loss to Broad Ripple (former state champs). Howe came in 2nd in the sectional with Mark Thomas winning singles and Bill Bankston and Phil Worthington runner-ups in doubles. Howe came in 3rd in the city with Thomas runner-up at no. 4 singles, with Worthington and Bill Rood as runner-ups in no. 2 doubles.

As for next year, Howe should have an excellent team. The top five varsity players are all returning. Our chances in the sectionals and city should be excellent.

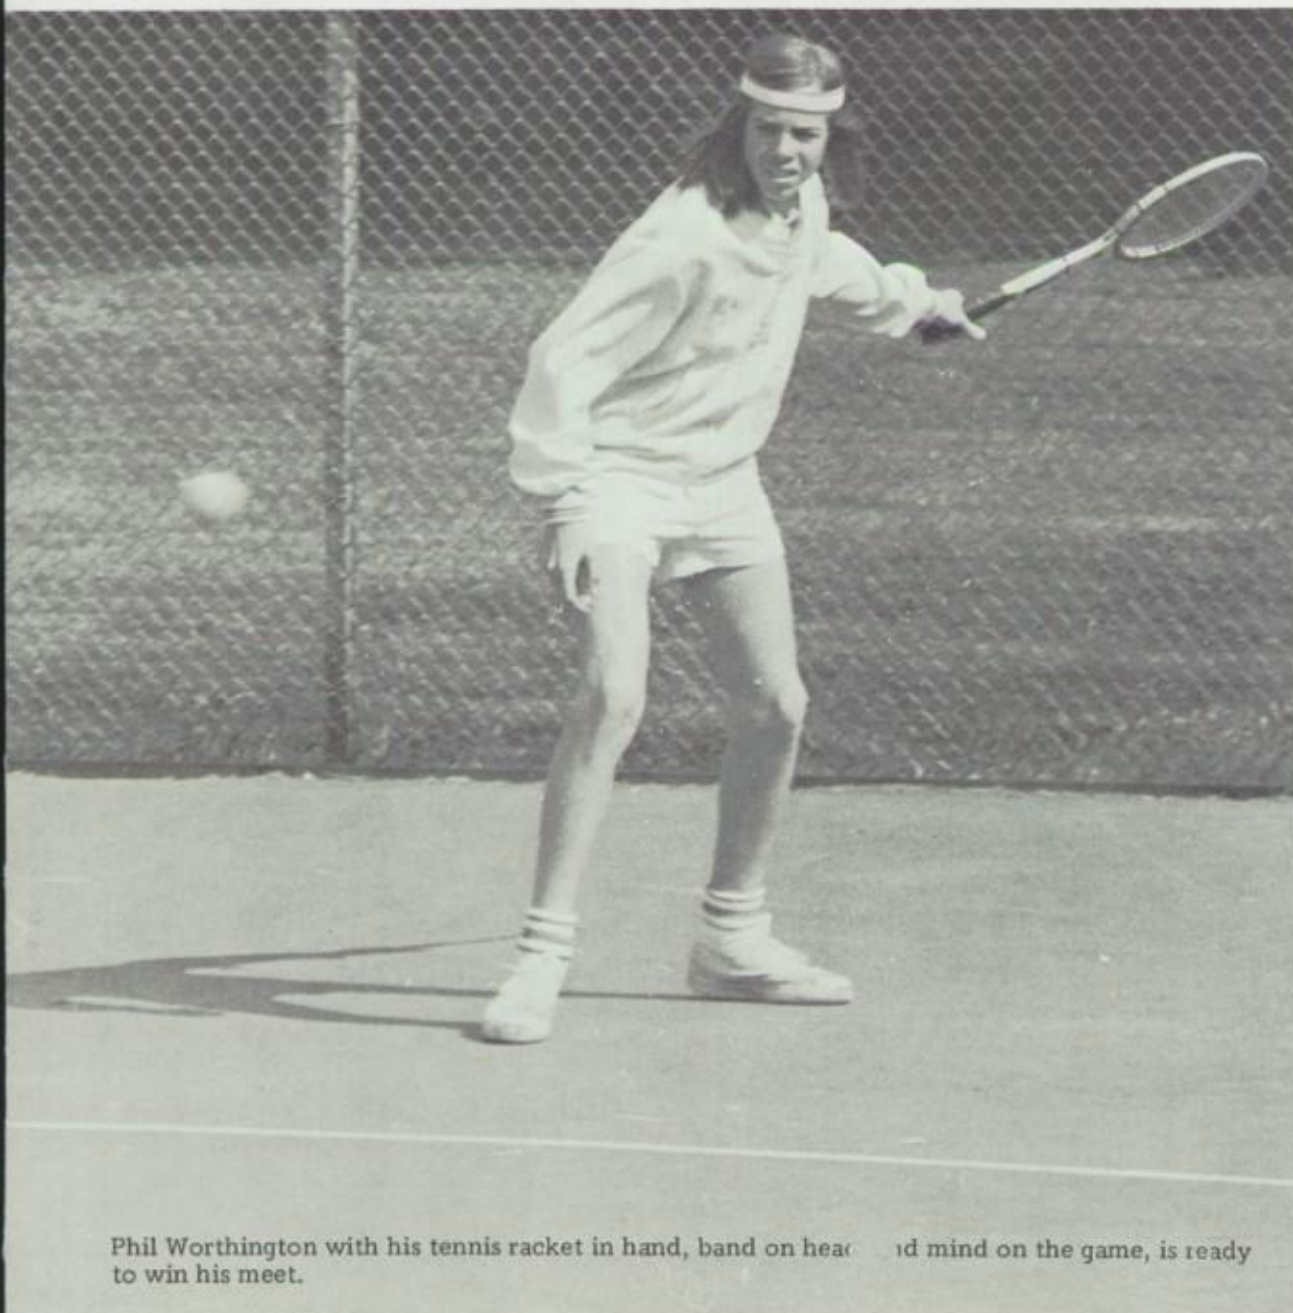

I understand that it would be hard to gather a crowd to watch a tennis match. Nevertheless, increased school spirit would help the tennis team just as it would any other athletic team.

As for a career in tennis, I would really like to play pro tennis, but I doubt if it would be tangible for me to look at pro tennis as a possible career. Even if I was qualified, it would require much more time than I am able to give at the moment. I plan to play collegiate tennis, if possible.

The opening kickoff of the Marshall game has just been shot by Dave Detamore.

Doug McGuire grabs for a key pass, in a vital play, during a tense mement, in an essential game.

Larry McCormick evades a Patriot tackler.

This year's team worked well together. Captains Larry McCormick and Steve Hinton guided us to our winning season of 8-2. The factors attributing to our success were our solid defense and speedy offense. If we were noted for one item in particular, it would be our sturdy line.

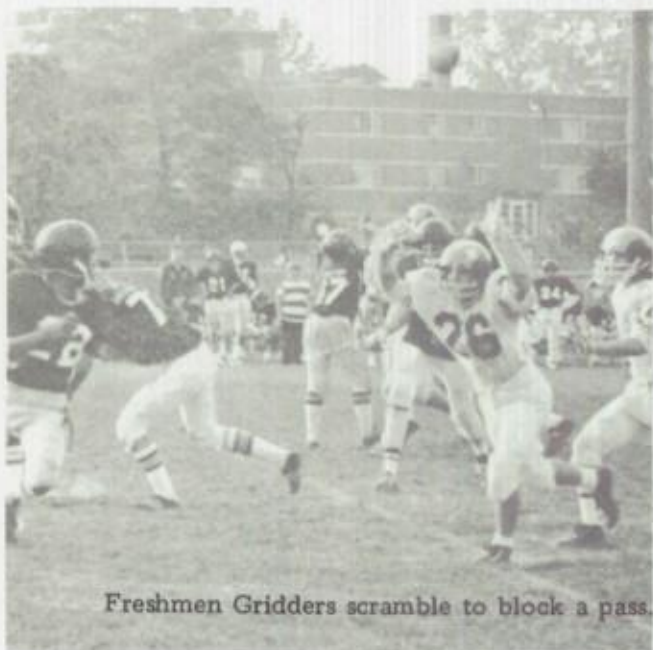

Our biggest downfall was over confidence, which brought us to our first loss against Broad Ripple. The most thrilling game for me was the Chatard game. It was the last game of the season and we were the underdog. Mike Hinton scored the winning points for us in the last seconds of overtime.

Before a game I really get nervous, but all of the butterflies quickly disappear at the opening kickoff. I play football for the excitement of the game. I love the feeling of running, hitting, and winning. The crowd really cheered us on this season. It really gets us fired up to see the student body rooting us on. I work harder than ever so that I don't disappoint them. It's a great feeling for me to represent Howe on the football field.

At the sound of the gun, the teams are off and running.

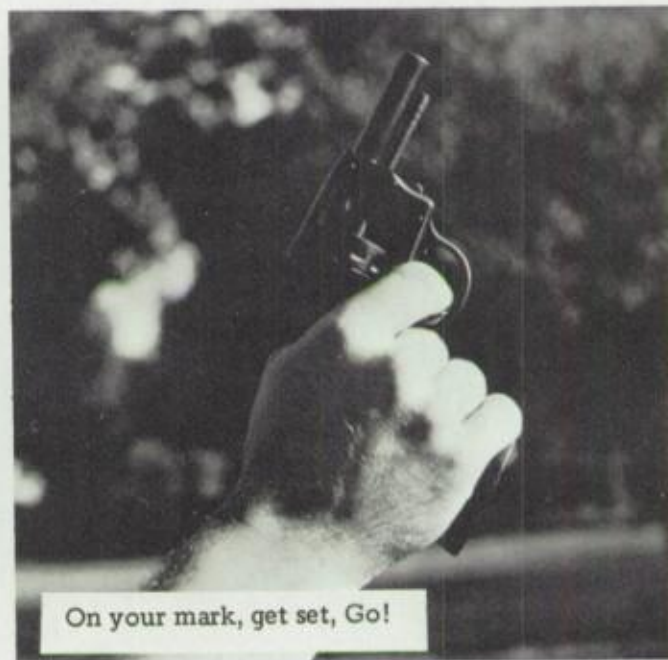

Country As Told By Scott Thomas

Cross Country is a sport made up of running 2-1/2 miles over a set course of hills and wooded areas. The first 5 runners on a team score with the lowest score winning. The runners start training in the summer 2 days a week. In the fall the harriers run distances of 3 miles, 6-1/2 miles, 12-1/4 miles and 3 separate miles. It takes most of the summer to get in shape. 12-1/2 miles is the farthest distance varsity has to run. Freshmen run 1-1/2 miles. The reserve race to run first, then varsity. A runner is eligible to join if they have passing grades. John Adams and Ray Janes hold the freshmen record for the 1-1/2 mile run at 7:41. Roger Wright has the Christian Park record for the 2-1/2 mile run at 12:25. Scott Thomas really likes the sport; the scoring, and the competition involved. He has said, 'It's a very challenging sport.'

Volleyball

Becky Taylor displays her power-packed serve.

Becky Taylor and Gail Becher look on intently as Mary Kay Solberg attempts to return the ball.

Kim Marendt spikes to opposing team.

Volleyball As Told By Becky Taylor

Volleyball is a very exciting game and I love to play it. I become very excited when I'm playing a game. I want to do my best and help the others to do their best. If I can do this I feel uplifted and proud. If not, well, I'll just try harder next time.

Our team did real well this year. Even though we don't have the sectional trophy I feel we are better than the team that did receive it. We had just finished playing Beech Grove and we had to play for the sectional title. We were all too tired to play another game, but we put up a good fight and lost with dignity. It's hard to accept defeat when you can taste victory.

Miss McMillan is really a neat coach. She helped us become a real team and use teamwork as our main defensive system. Everyone worked together. Selfishness and priority were very low. One factor that really hurt was the lack of school spirit. No one took much interest in the game. I hope it isn't that way next year, I wouldn't want volleyball to die out.

etball As Told By Kevin Johnson

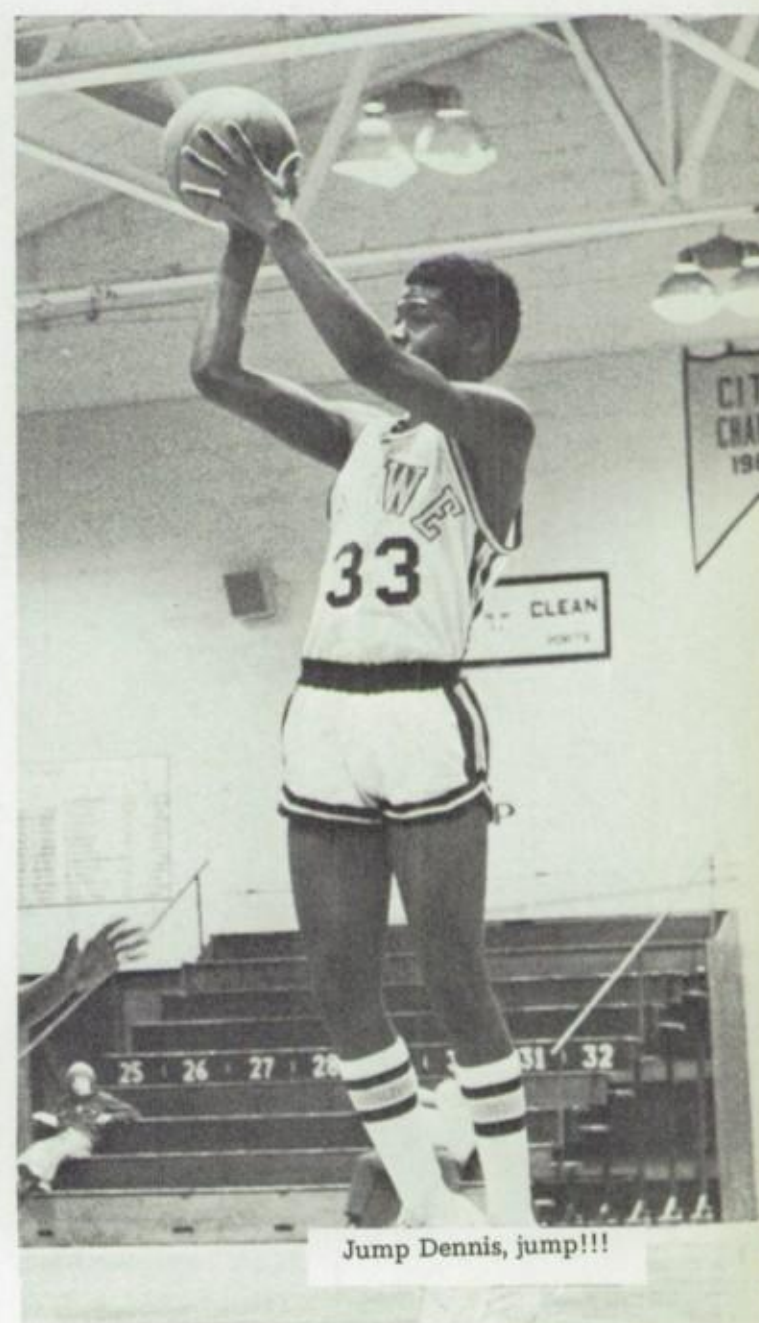

Although this year's season wasn't one of which we brag about, I am proud that I had opportunity to play on the team. We started out with more than our share of problems, missing three players which could have helped us out a lot. We feel that we all tried very hard, and worked well together when we had to, but it wasn't until this was after we were behind and had a long way to climb. When we did get back together, we proved to be fierce, as I'm sure you know if you were at the Southport Northwest game. One of our problems was frustration. At times we tended to give up. The lowest moment this season was when we hit the record for the most consecutive losses in a year, eleven. Team spirit was good considering the way things were going, but school spirit left something to be desired. One item we did achieve was a foundation for next year's team. Something we didn't achieve this year. I wish we could have had a better season, but I guess 'Winning isn't everything.'

Mr. Mitchell gives his team last minute instructions before the start of a game.

Jump Dennis, jump!!!

Basketball

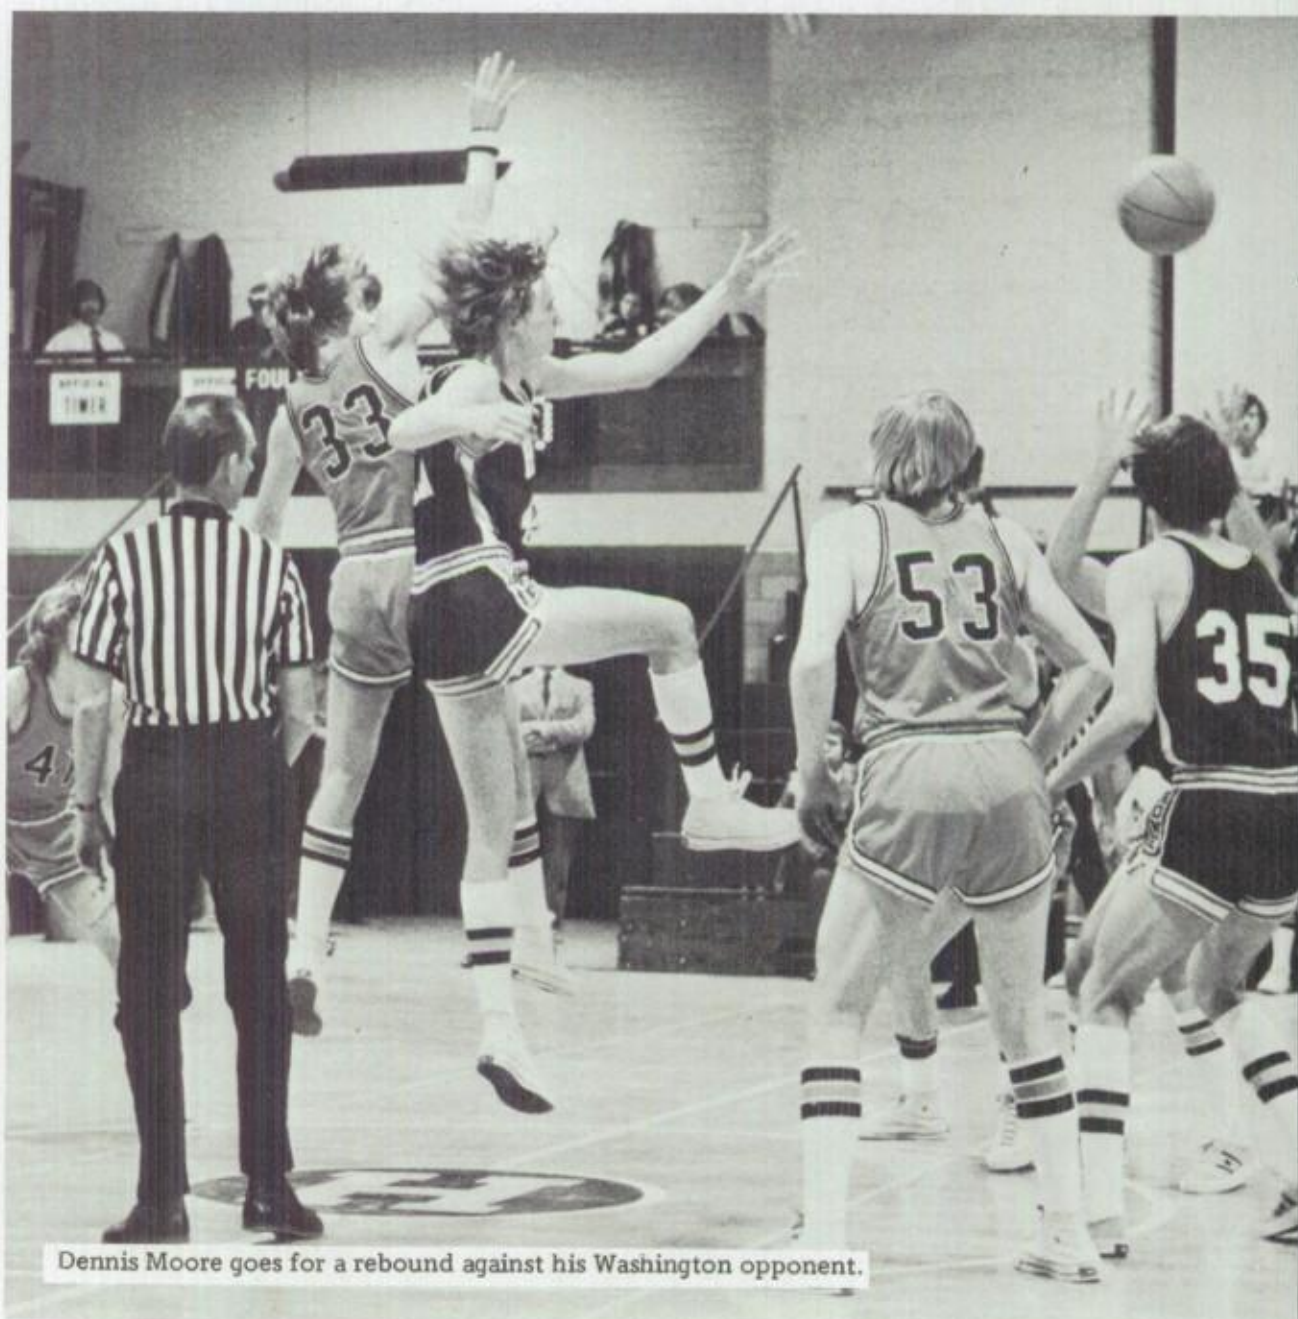

Coach Thompson yells for a VICTORY!

Howe tries to get the ball after tip off

Rusty Eads tries to add a point to the Howe Score during a foul shot.

Dennis Moore goes for a rebound against his Washington opponent.

The players watch to see if Tony Pennington's shot will bring the Hornets two points.

'Mamma Mia,' cries Mr. Mitchell.

Howe's 'mystery player' attempts to steal a pass from Arlington's freshman team.

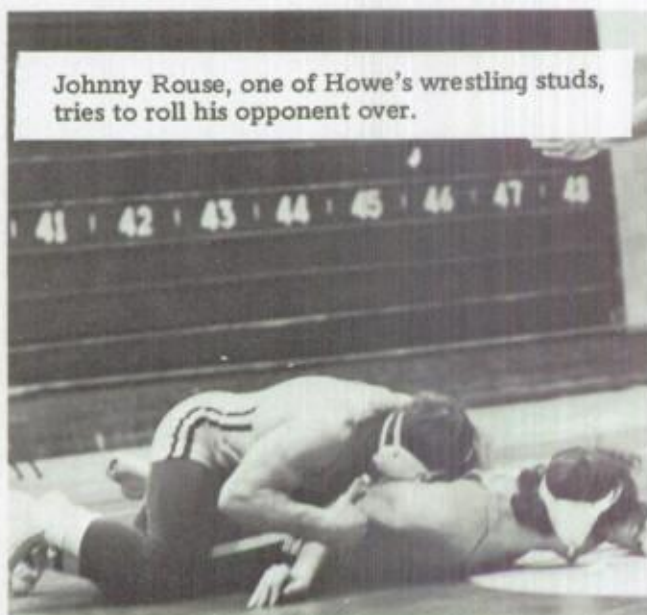

Wrestling

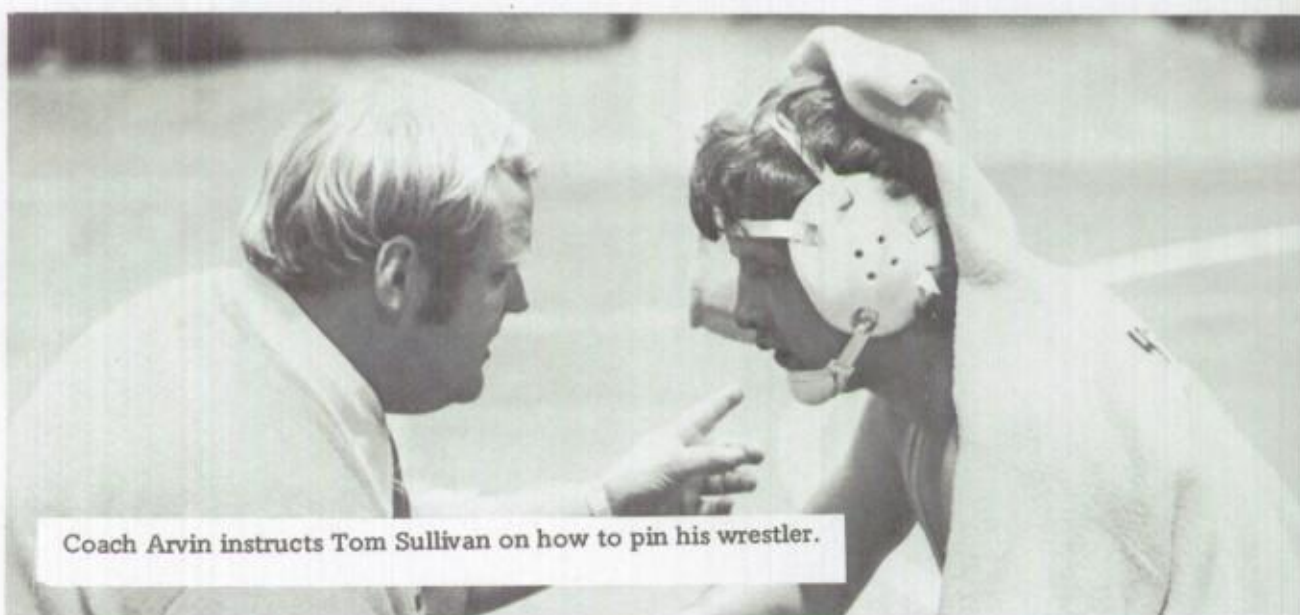

Jim Mackell, Howe's city champion at 132 lbs., takes time out from a hard practice to get his picture taken.

It was just one of those days for super stud, Kevin Dodd.

Coach Arvin instructs Tom Sullivan on how to pin his wrestler.

Mike Niggl bear hugs his rival.

Gary Pottorff struggles to pin his foe.

Wrestling As Told By Jim Mackell—Howe's 132 lb. City Champ!!

Wrestling is one of the best sports in the athletic program as far as fairness to all is concerned. It presents opportunities for boys of all sizes. There are thirteen different weight classes starting at 98 and going up to 185 and Heavyweight.

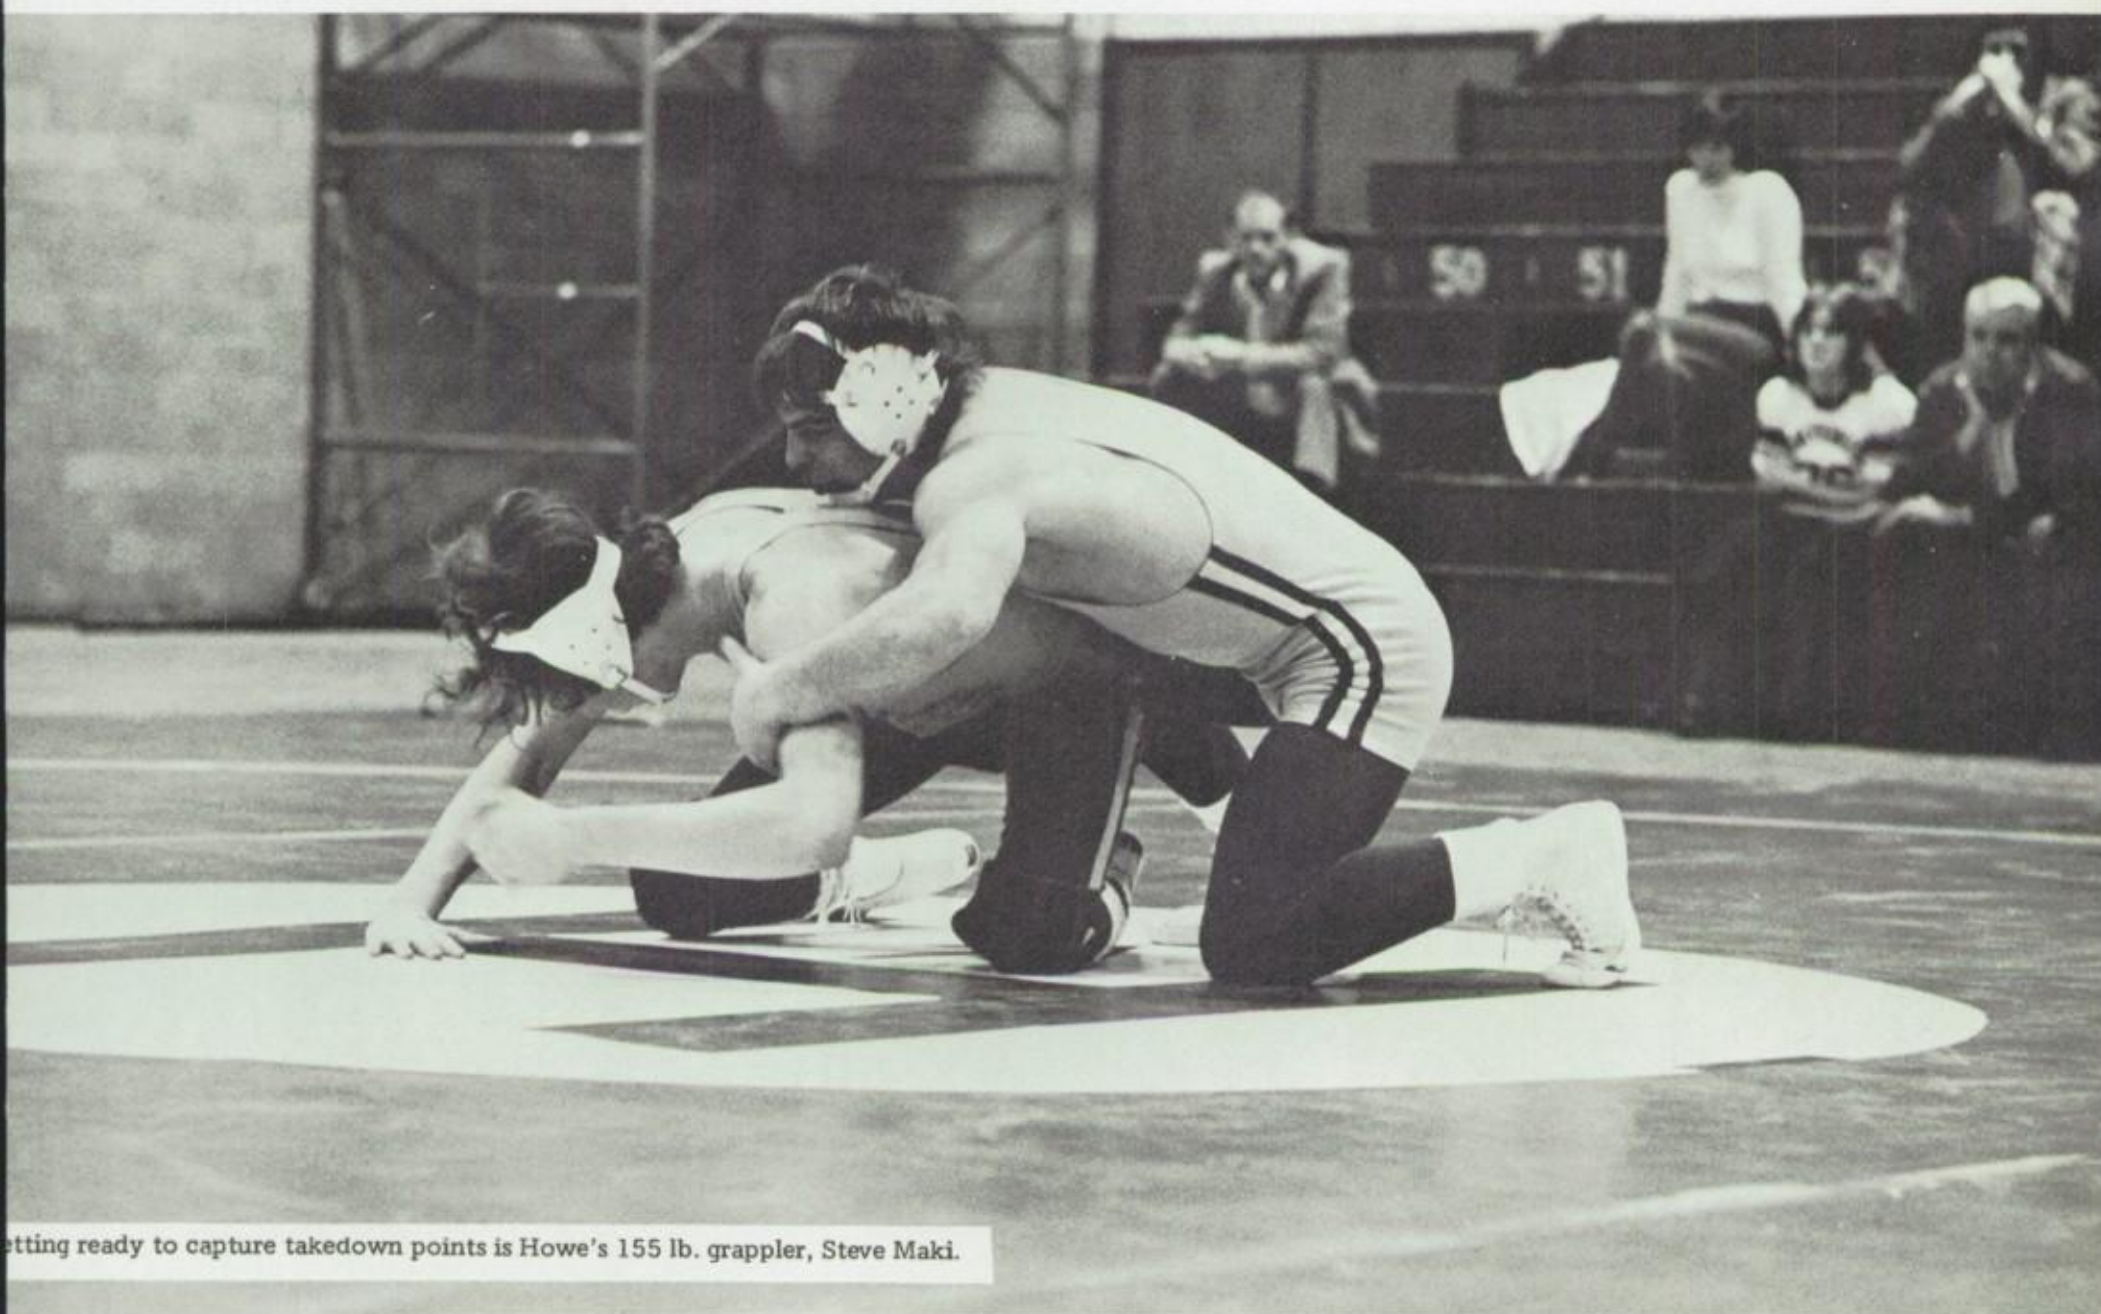

Each wrestling match consists of three, two minute periods. The wrestler to accumulate the most points within this time period is the winner. Points are achieved for near falls, escapes, and takedowns. If a wrestler gets both shoulders of his opponent's on the mat as 'pinned' his opponent and won the match. Three team points are awarded to a wrestler who wins by points and six to a wrestler who wins by pin.

We practice every day after school and Sat. from 9:00 'til 12:00. At practice we run, do strength drills, and try out different holds.

We had a good season this year, losing only three meets. Four guys placed at sectionals, most to stiff competition at regionals. They were Mike Niggle, Carl Boger, Kevin Dodd, and myself. Mike Niggle and myself also placed first and second respectively in the city meet.

Howe's wrestling team presents a special award to the wrestler with the best pin in the city meet. This award is entitled the 'Stud Duck Award' and is a great honor to receive. The award helps prove our slogan, 'Wrestling is for studs.'

45

Getting ready to capture takedown points is Howe's 155 lb. grappler, Steve Maki.

Cheering on the grapplers are the recently acquired Mat Maids.

Looks like Steve received his takedown points.

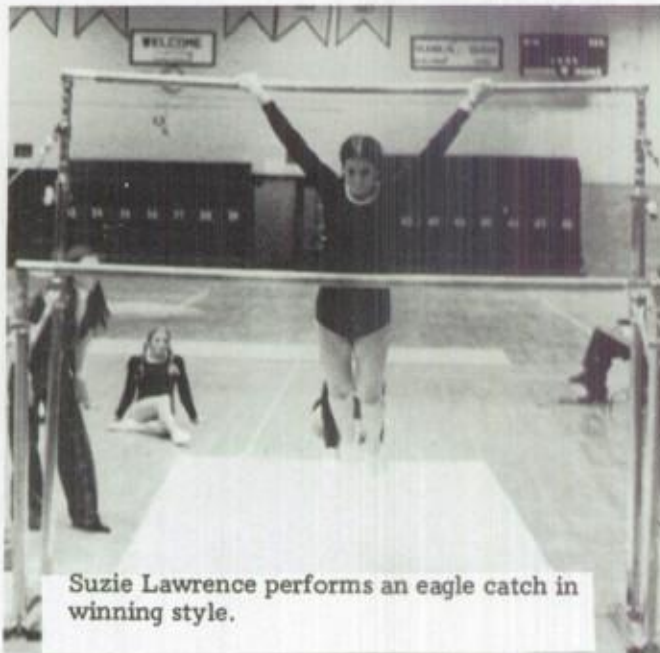

Gymnastics As Told By Jan Frick

All of the trials and tribulations of sports paid off for the girls gymnastics team this season. After putting up with basketball, baseball, construction, and heating problems, we won all of our meets except the last, played against Columbus North. We quickly recovered from our defeat and went on to win both the sectionals and regionals making us eligible for the state championship. However, we again fell short to Columbus North, the title, and our dreams. Second place in the state is not bad, though, and we are awfully proud of our accomplishment. There are fifteen girls on the team. Some of us competed in only one event and a couple competed in two or more events. I think that the two biggest reasons we did so well were our attitudes and our coach. We were all very close to each other and we helped one another to achieve our goals. I do not think that a better coach than Mrs. Reinhardt can be found. She practiced with us every night, after school, and on Saturday afternoons. She really helped us alot.

Another big help was the terrific backing we received from the student body. It was great to know that they were with us all the way.

Like every sport, gymnastics is alot of hard work, but believe me, it is an awful lot of fun!

Swim Team As Told By Carol McCrae and Janice Wiggins

The early morning swimmers (that's 6:30 babe) completed their first year with a splash. These bright-eyed beauties were plagued with cries of 'Flip turn!' and 'Pick up the pace!' by their beloved coach, Mr. Tim Jessup. Four-hundred, two-hundred, and one-hundred yard swims were beaten out of the dedicated swimmers daily at the Eastside YMCA. Despite the grueling pace of early morning practices and long, tiresome meets, the girls' and boys' teams swam together, learned together, and had fun together. The team faced tough competition from such foes as Warren Central, Shelbyville, and Lawrence Central. Despite gut determination and fierce team spirit, inexperience won out—although the team didn't

Intramurals As Told by Larry Norris

Why do guys play intramural basketball? Because it's exciting, because they want to go back at the 'old foggie teachers' or because they just like basketball. Well, according to Larry Norris all these reasons are correct along with a few more. Intramural basketball is played on one night a week, so most of the guys can get off from their jobs. It provides activity for guys who like basketball, but couldn't play for the Howe team for some reason or other.

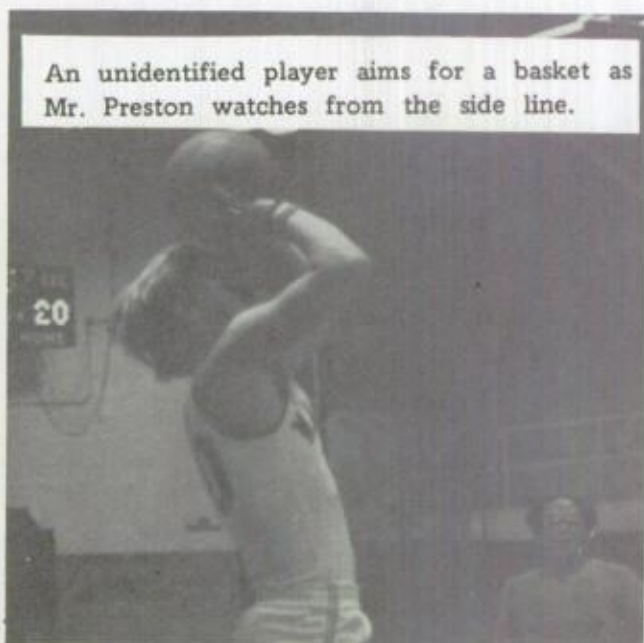

At intramurals there are no refs., so just about anything goes and I mean anything. The biggest team usually comes out the winner, but it's all for fun.

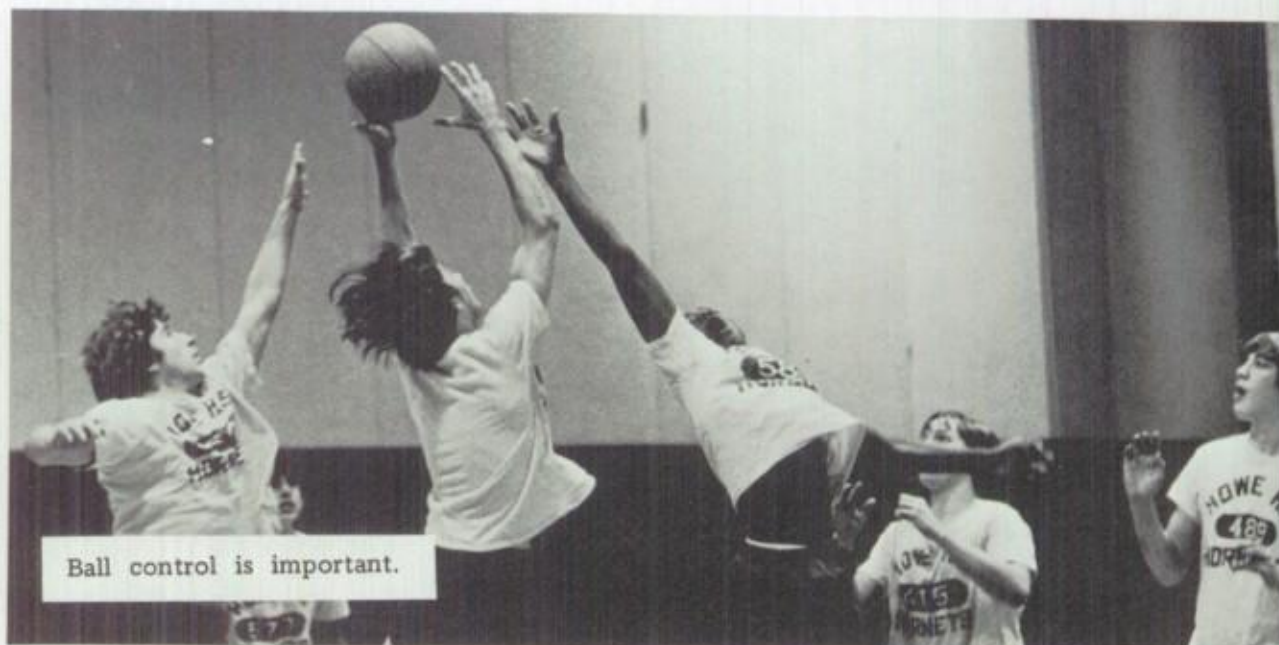

An excited player proudly stuffs a shot.

Varsity cheerleaders help heighten the spirits of the basketball team as they cheer them on.

As a cheerleader, I help promote school spirit at football and basketball games. But I think that often people forget that we only lead spirit, not provide it. It is the student body who provides the school spirit. I felt that this year's school spirit was fantastic! Not only were the major sports supported, but also the minor sports. The cheerleaders have other duties besides cheering. We decorate the locker room before games, make spirit signs, and lead assemblies. This summer we went to leading camp for a week. Here we learned chants and cheers. We also competed with cheerleaders from other schools. In this competition we won first every night.

Team As Told By Debbie Hannah

The drill team marched into season early this year by attending summer camp at Tennessee University. Here we learned a great deal about dancing and marching. Early in August we began preparing dances for halftime at football games. One of my favorite shows this year was the fifties dance, where we 'Hopped and Bopped' to old time music. Besides performing pregame and halftime shows we also march in military bands and parades. Mrs. Banks was our sponsor. Mrs. Banks herself, was a member of the Hornet cheerleaders while a student. She helped us think up ideas for dances and lifted our spirits when the going got rough.

34 GREAT YEARS AT HOWE

By BOB WILLIAMS

Howe High School's Sam Kelley and the forward pass started out together 50 years ago.

Kelley began his illustrious career in the Boonville coal fields, earned nine varsity letters at Boonville High and six more at Oakland City College, and dedicated his best years since 1940 to the Howe athletic department.

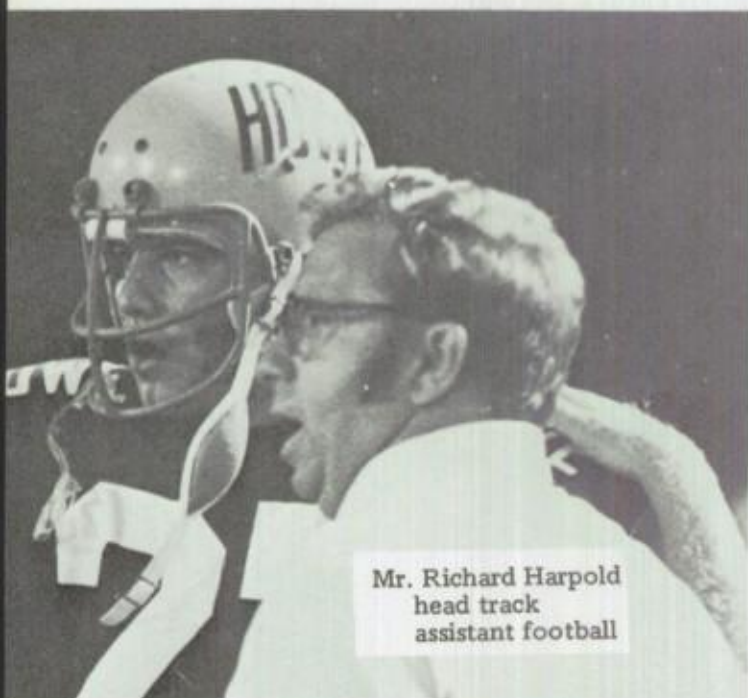

Sam's 34 years as Howe coach, athletic director and teacher will receive some of the recognition he deserves June 5 when many of his closest friends get together at Hook's Trophy Room for a testimonial banquet.

Kelley is the last of Indianapolis' old guard that included at one time Charlie Dagwell (Tech), Russel Julius and Bob Nipper (Shortridge), Justin Marshall (Washington), Harry Thomas (Manual), Kyle Peters (Broad Ripple), Lon Watford (Crispus Attucks), and Jake Caskey (Deaf School).

All were extremely influential athletic directors in the Capital City shaping a golden era for high school sports.

The Solo

Once upon a weekday dreary, while I pondered,
weak and weary,
Over many a faint and quivering volume of
piano keys,
While I stood, slowly sinking, suddenly there came a squeaking,
As of some one gently singing, singing pretty melodies.
"Tis my turn," I muttered, "To sing, sing my solo—Only this and nothing more."

Ah, distinctly I recall it was in the heart of fall.
And each separate simple note quivered shaking from my throat.
Eagerly I wished the pitch; which sounded ever high and rich
From my music notes came flowing—flowing yet not on key,
For the squealing screaming note whom composers name high C—
Screaching here for evermore.

And the mild, monotones, squealing from within my bones
Shrilled them—filled them with trembling
sounds never heard before;
So that now, to still the beating of my heart, I stood repeating,
"Tis my solo squeaking here for all of them to hear—That it is and nothing more."

Presently my voice grew stronger: hesitating then no longer,
'Sir,' said I, 'or Madam, truly your forgiveness
I implore;
But the fact that I was singing, and so gently
you sat giggling,
And so faintly you kept laughing, laughing at my soliquy,
That I faintly yet could hear you'—your manners I adore—Only this and nothing more.

With Apologies to
Edgar Allan Poe

The Madrigalwocky

'Twas blowing, and the scripus tones
That bloobed and blobed in the air;
All mimsy were the madrigals,
The flying moans rath the sky.

'Beware the Madrigalwock, my friend!
The tones that screech, the notes that slure!
Beware the performances and shun
The frumious Bramblett!'

They took their vocal harp in hand:
Long time the manxome foe he sought,—
So rested them by the auditorium tree,
And stook awhile in song.

And, as in uffish the performance went on,
The Madrigalwocks, with utter harmony,
Came whiffing through the wind,
And burbled as they came.

One, two! One, two! And through and through
The vocal flisys went snicker-snack!
They lift their audience, dead with silence
And went galumphing back stage.

'And hast thou heard the Madrigalwocks?
Come and hear their melodies!
Oh their songs! Callooh! Callay!'
We chortled for their songs.

'Twas blowing and scripus tones
That bloobed and blobed in the air;
All mimsy were the madrigals,
And flying moans were quite fair.

Apologies to
Lewis Carroll

The Octet

The octet, a prodigy of melodies,
Lifts notes twice the pitch of piano keys
And never breaks or breathes, or sighs
Because of their close ties.
Though after school they practice much
And sing with their light soft touch,
And never once is heard a fuss
Retiring late after dusk.
Nor do they frown or look askance
At performing at an after school dance.
Nor do they bicker, blame or sob
Performing for the PTO mob,
The octet are great to hear
Notes a flowing ever so dear.

Apologies to

Guys and Dolls

'Twas the night before Musical and all through the school,
not a teacher was stirring not even a pupil.
The drops were hung on the battons with care,
In hopes that St. Lewis soon would be there.
The cast was at wits end all over the town,
While nightmares of failure were keeping them down.
Moreland in her leotards and Lewis in his tux,
Had just settled down with hopes of good luck.
When out of the pit there came such a clatter,
They both jumped up to see what was the matter.
Away through the lobby they ran on the floor,
And up on the stage to the one locked door.
When what to their wandering eyes should they see,
But the door was now open and inside was a key.
The key would unlock the secret to all,
Of Howe's beautiful performance of 'Guys and Dolls'
With more talent than Broadway, the stars they came,
And Lewis whistled and shouted and called them by name,
Now Scott, now Charlie, not Nona and Kathy,
On John, on Richie, on Lisa, and Judi.
To the top of the balconey, to the back of the walls,
Sing along, Sing along, Sing along all!!!!

Band

Four Trombones

Four Trombones led the big Howe Band,
 With fifteen clarinets close at hand.
 They were followed by rows and rows of the finest virtuosos,
 The cream of every famous band.
 Seven drums caught the morning sun,
 With twelve flutes right behind.
 There were more than fifteen reeds,
 springing up like weeds,
 There were horns of every shape and kind.
 There were pom pom girls in costumes
 Thundering, thundering all along the way.
 Double euphoniums and big bassons,
 Each basson have

Each basson having his big fat say.
 There were thirteen trumpets in the battery,
 Thundering, thundering louder than before.
 Clarinets of every size and French horns
 Who'd improvise a full octave higher than the score.

Vicki Horton led the big Howe Band,
 When the order to march rang out loud and clear,
 Starting off with a big bang bong
 From Whitakers gong
 The big bang bonger at the rear.
 Four trombones hit the counter point,
 While fifteen clarinets played the air.
 Then I modestly took my place as the one and only oboe,
 And I oom pahed up and down the square.

The Orchestra Band

O the Orchestra Band! They work fer
Beckley;
An' they're the goodest orchestra ever you saw!
They come to 241 every day,
An' tune their instruments, an' play what they may?
An' they open the music—an' we all ist laugh
When they drive out a note a little off key;
An' nen—if Pop says they can—
They'll play for the musical program—
Ain't they an awful good Orchestra Band?
Orchestra! Orchestra! Orchestra Band!

Why, the Orchestra Band—they ist so good They'd play in Time Square in New York if they could;
An' nen they play at Eastgate, too,
An' does most things that orchestras do!—
They play alot from Tapestry—
An' anything that Beckley sees—
Ain't they an awful kind Orchestra Band!
Orchestra! Orchestra! Orchestra Band!

An' the Orchestra Band, they know many a song,
An' practice them most all the day long;
Play 'bout Christmas, an' fall, an' spring,
An' most the songs that choir sings!
An' if you look down in the orchestra pit,
You'd see right where the orchestra sit,
Where Mike Lemmon sits, an' can
Turn int Mancini, er the orchestra man!
Ain't they an awful neat Orchestra Band!
Orchestra! Orchestra! Orchestra Band!

PRV

Poor old PRV

Was canceled last year because of we,
But everyone pointed and said, 'Look at that!
That school is full of apathy, it's a fact!'
(It was a fact!)

Lucky old PRV

Was a success this year because of we,
The songs were good and the acts were cute!
Instruments and dancing were up to suit!
(They were up to suit!)

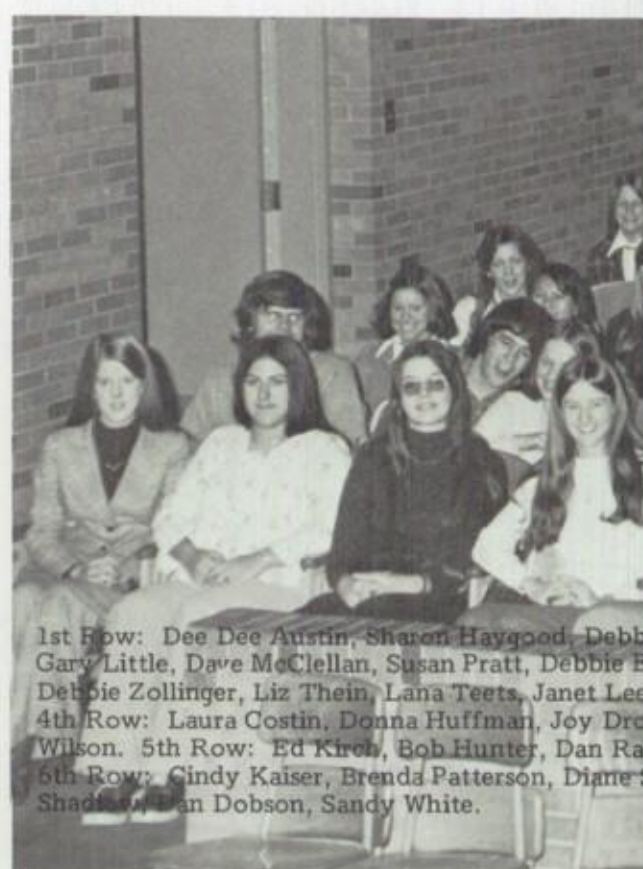

Poor old PRV

The acts were great you could see,
But the audience was so rude it was sad!
It made the cast awfully mad!
(They were mad!)

Lucky old PRV

Everyone loved the show you could see,
'Signs of the Zodiac' stole the show!
'Monday Night Martians' helped make it go!
(Did you do so?)

Student Council

Fable

The faculty and the council
 Had a quarrel,
 And the former called the latter 'Little Kids';
 Tony replied,
 'You are doubtless much older;
 But all types of characters and personalities
 Must be taken in together,
 To make up a system
 And a school,
 And we think it no disgrace
 To occupy our place,
 If we're not so old as you,
 You are not so young as we,
 And not half so free.
 We'll not deny you make
 A very fine administration;
 Talents differ; all is well and wisely put;
 If we cannot run a school,
 Neither can you make it up.'

As a token of your loyalty to Quill and Scroll, to which I welcome you, will you raise your right hand and repeat after me this pledge:

I do pledge myself

To do all in my power

To work for the advancement of my community,

To be loyal to my superiors

To live up to the ideals of true journalism,

And to be impartial in my interpretation of Truth.

You have the privilege, because of your record of character, leadership, scholarship, and service, of becoming members of the National Honor Society. Raise your right hand and repeat the pledge which I will give:

I pledge myself to uphold the high purpose of the National Honor

Society to which I have been elected striving in every way

by word and deed

to make its ideals of

Character, Leadership, Scholarship, Service,

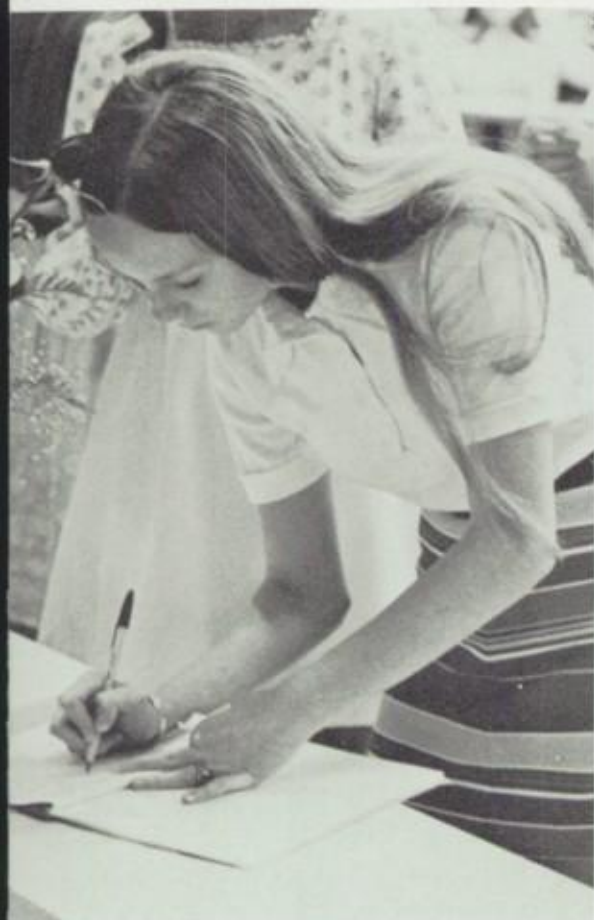

the ideals of my school and of my life,

thus doing my utmost to enable my school

to attain its goals.

Young Ms. Jones

Young Ms. Jones
Was a merry old soul,
And a merry old soul was she;
She called for her articles,
She called for her ads,
And she called for her editors three.

Every editor, they had a fine page
And a very fine page had they;
Then twee, tweedle-dee,
Tweedle-dee went the editors.
Oh, there's none so rare
As can compare
With Ms. Jones and her editors three!

Young Ms. Jones
Was a kindly young soul,

She called for her proofs,
She called for her pictures,
And she called for her writers three.

Every writer, they had a fine story
And a very fine story had they;
Then twee, tweedle-dee,
Tweedle-dee went the writers.
Oh, there's none so rare
As can compare
With Ms. Jones and her editors three!

Mock Election

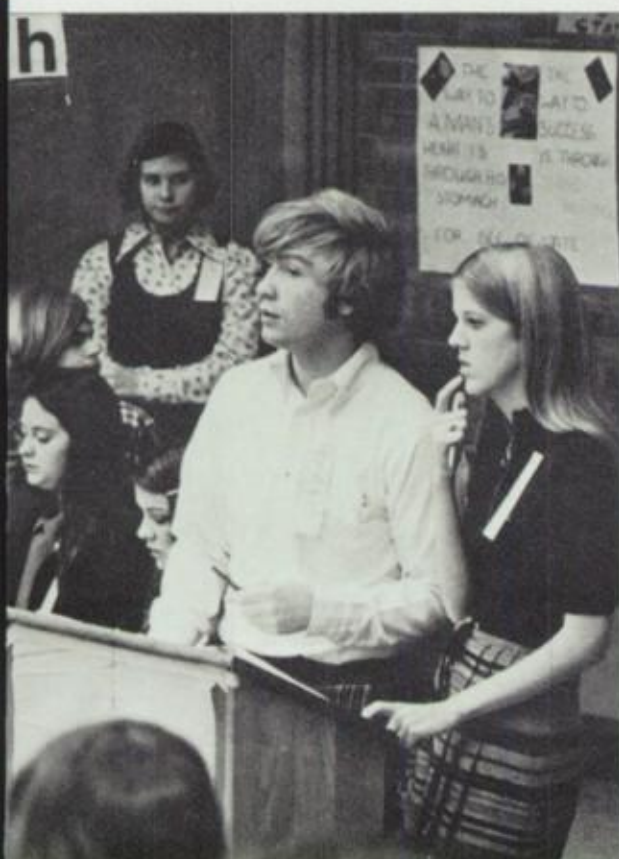

The Duel

The Federalist dudes and the Nationalist cats
 Side by side at the polls sat;
 'Twas half-past two, and (what do you think!)
 Nor one nor t'other had slept a wink!
 Mr. Spears and Mr. Meek
 Appeared to know a sure as fate
 There was going to be a terrible spate.
 (I wasn't there; I simply state
 What was told to me by the head of state!)

The Brooks bakers would cry, 'Vote Nats!'
 And the Feds would reply,
 'Be a head, vote Fed!'
 The air was littered an hour or so,
 With crys of, 'Vote Hinton and go, go, go!'
 While Coglan at the Federalist place
 Up with his hands before his face,
 For he hoped for a party win!
 (Now mind: I'm only telling you
 What the head of state declares as true!)

Lee Ann Brooks looked very blue,
 And wailed, 'Oh, dear! What shall we do!'
 But the Feds went on and won at that Took good care of the Nats,
 Sweeped the governors returns
 And four other offices when the day had adjourned—
 And, oh! How the confetti and horns blew!
 (Don't fancy I exaggerate—
 I got my news from the head of state!)

SENIOR

a. Robert Strickland, far right, is a National Merit finalist. George Pullman, Amy B. Mueller, and Sherry Gamble all received letters of comindation for the same award.

b. Nick Cridlin, Theresa Sheetz, Diane Baugh, David Walker, Susan Montgomery, and Marsha King chose coral, ecru, and burgundy for this years senior colors.

c. This years Senior Class officers are: Becky Taylor, Second Vice President; Sandra Thomas, Alumni Secretary; Susie Mathews, First Vice President; Connie Tillery, Secretary; Doug Prieshoff, Assistant Alumni Secretary; Mike Maddox, Treasurer; Scott Erickson, President; and Jim Stanbrough, Assistant Treasurer.

d. Top 1% of this years Senior Class: Becky Taylor, Patty Rutan, Charlie Presti, and Becky Long.

e. Susie Mathews received the DAR Award while Debbie McCleerey received the Betty Crocker Award and Debbie Rich was honored with the Altrusa Award.

f. Seniors who attended Boy's State or Girl's State (as the case may be) were William Yates, Becky Taylor, Scott Erickson, and Brad Cogan.

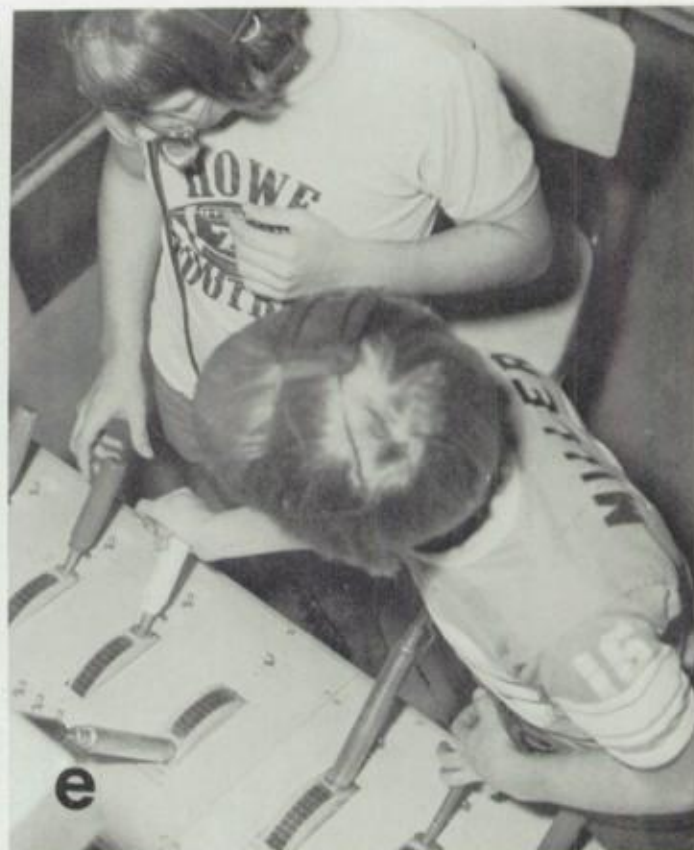

Senior Play

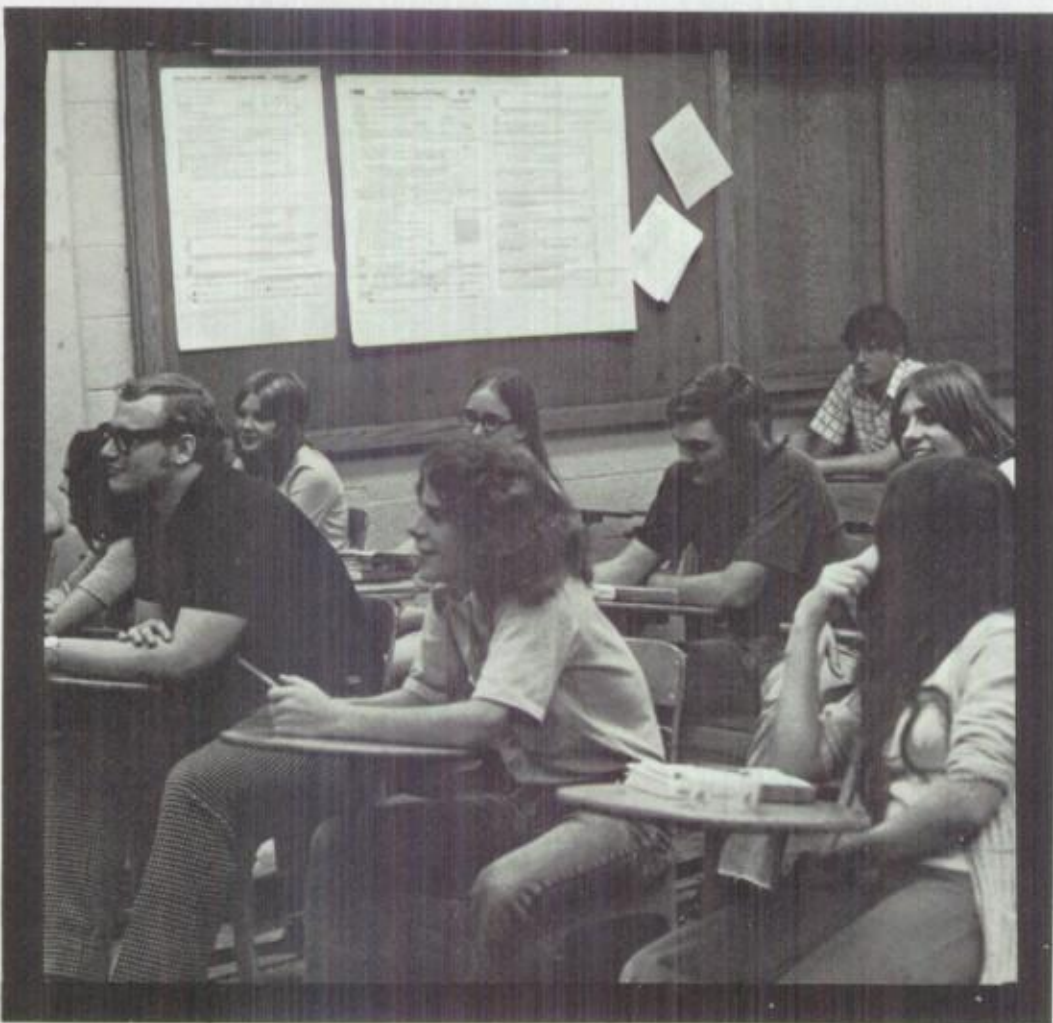

Pure As The Driven Snow

- Eric. Fire! Fire! Fire! Terrific fire!
- Alison. Where's the fire, E.Z.?
- Eric. Here in my breast, consuming my very heart for you.
- Alison. How silly! Why don't you start growing up?
- Eric. Oh, I've been doing that for years, and I expect to go on for some time to come. Seriously, Alison, did you tell your mother how crazy I am about you?
- Alison. I hinted at it to Mamma.
- Eric. And what was the fair damsel's reply?
- Alison. She said she'd finished raising her family and she wasn't thinking of starting another kindergarten.
- Eric. Did you tell her how fascinating you think I am? You do think I'm fascinating, don't you?
- Alison. I don't know what you are.
- Eric. You may not believe it but I'm a most unusual sort of fellow. Why, do you know that when I was born I was only a baby?
- Alison. You still are, if you ask me.
- Eric. Oh, I tell you, funny things have happened to me. At the early age of one minute I howled to see the world.
- Alison. You're the most provoking boy I've ever met.

- a. Nellie, the beautiful cloak model, exposes Mortimer Frothingham as the villain in the Senior Play.
- b. Larry Pastrick as Jed Logan and Joy Hall as his wife 'Ma' take a quick peek at their lines before they continue with practice.
- c. Purity Dean, portrayed by Brenda Maxwell, embraces the orphan baby found in the barn.
- d. Leander Longfellow charges at Mortimer to stop him from carrying off Purity.
- e. Ron Miller shows Gary Rankin how to operate the lightboard before the senior play performance.
- f. Ted Nottingham as Leander Longfellow gallantly enters the room while practicing for the play.

Dear reader,

This is my page. It is called "the editor's page" and I intend to make full use of it.

You may not have noticed it, but this book is different! The staff used a method called "paste-up" to put the book together. It slowed us down some, but in the long run it was a good experience.

Because of the trucker's strike in early February, we decided to take no chances on the book's delivery. Mr. Ed Kuonen hauled the books from Clarksville, Tennessee himself. For this and other countless times when he has advised the staff and I, I thank him.

And "Uncle Billy" Wright. He pulled strings and jossled things around so we would get the book in the spring. For this, I thank him.

For the thousands of pictures taken on the spur of the moment, I thank Mr. Ed Bowers and Mr. Gene Alvarez of Tower Studios.

The 1974 HILLTOPPER Staff. I could write a book about the 1974 HILLTOPPER Staff. But I'll just say "Thanks Joe" for everything.

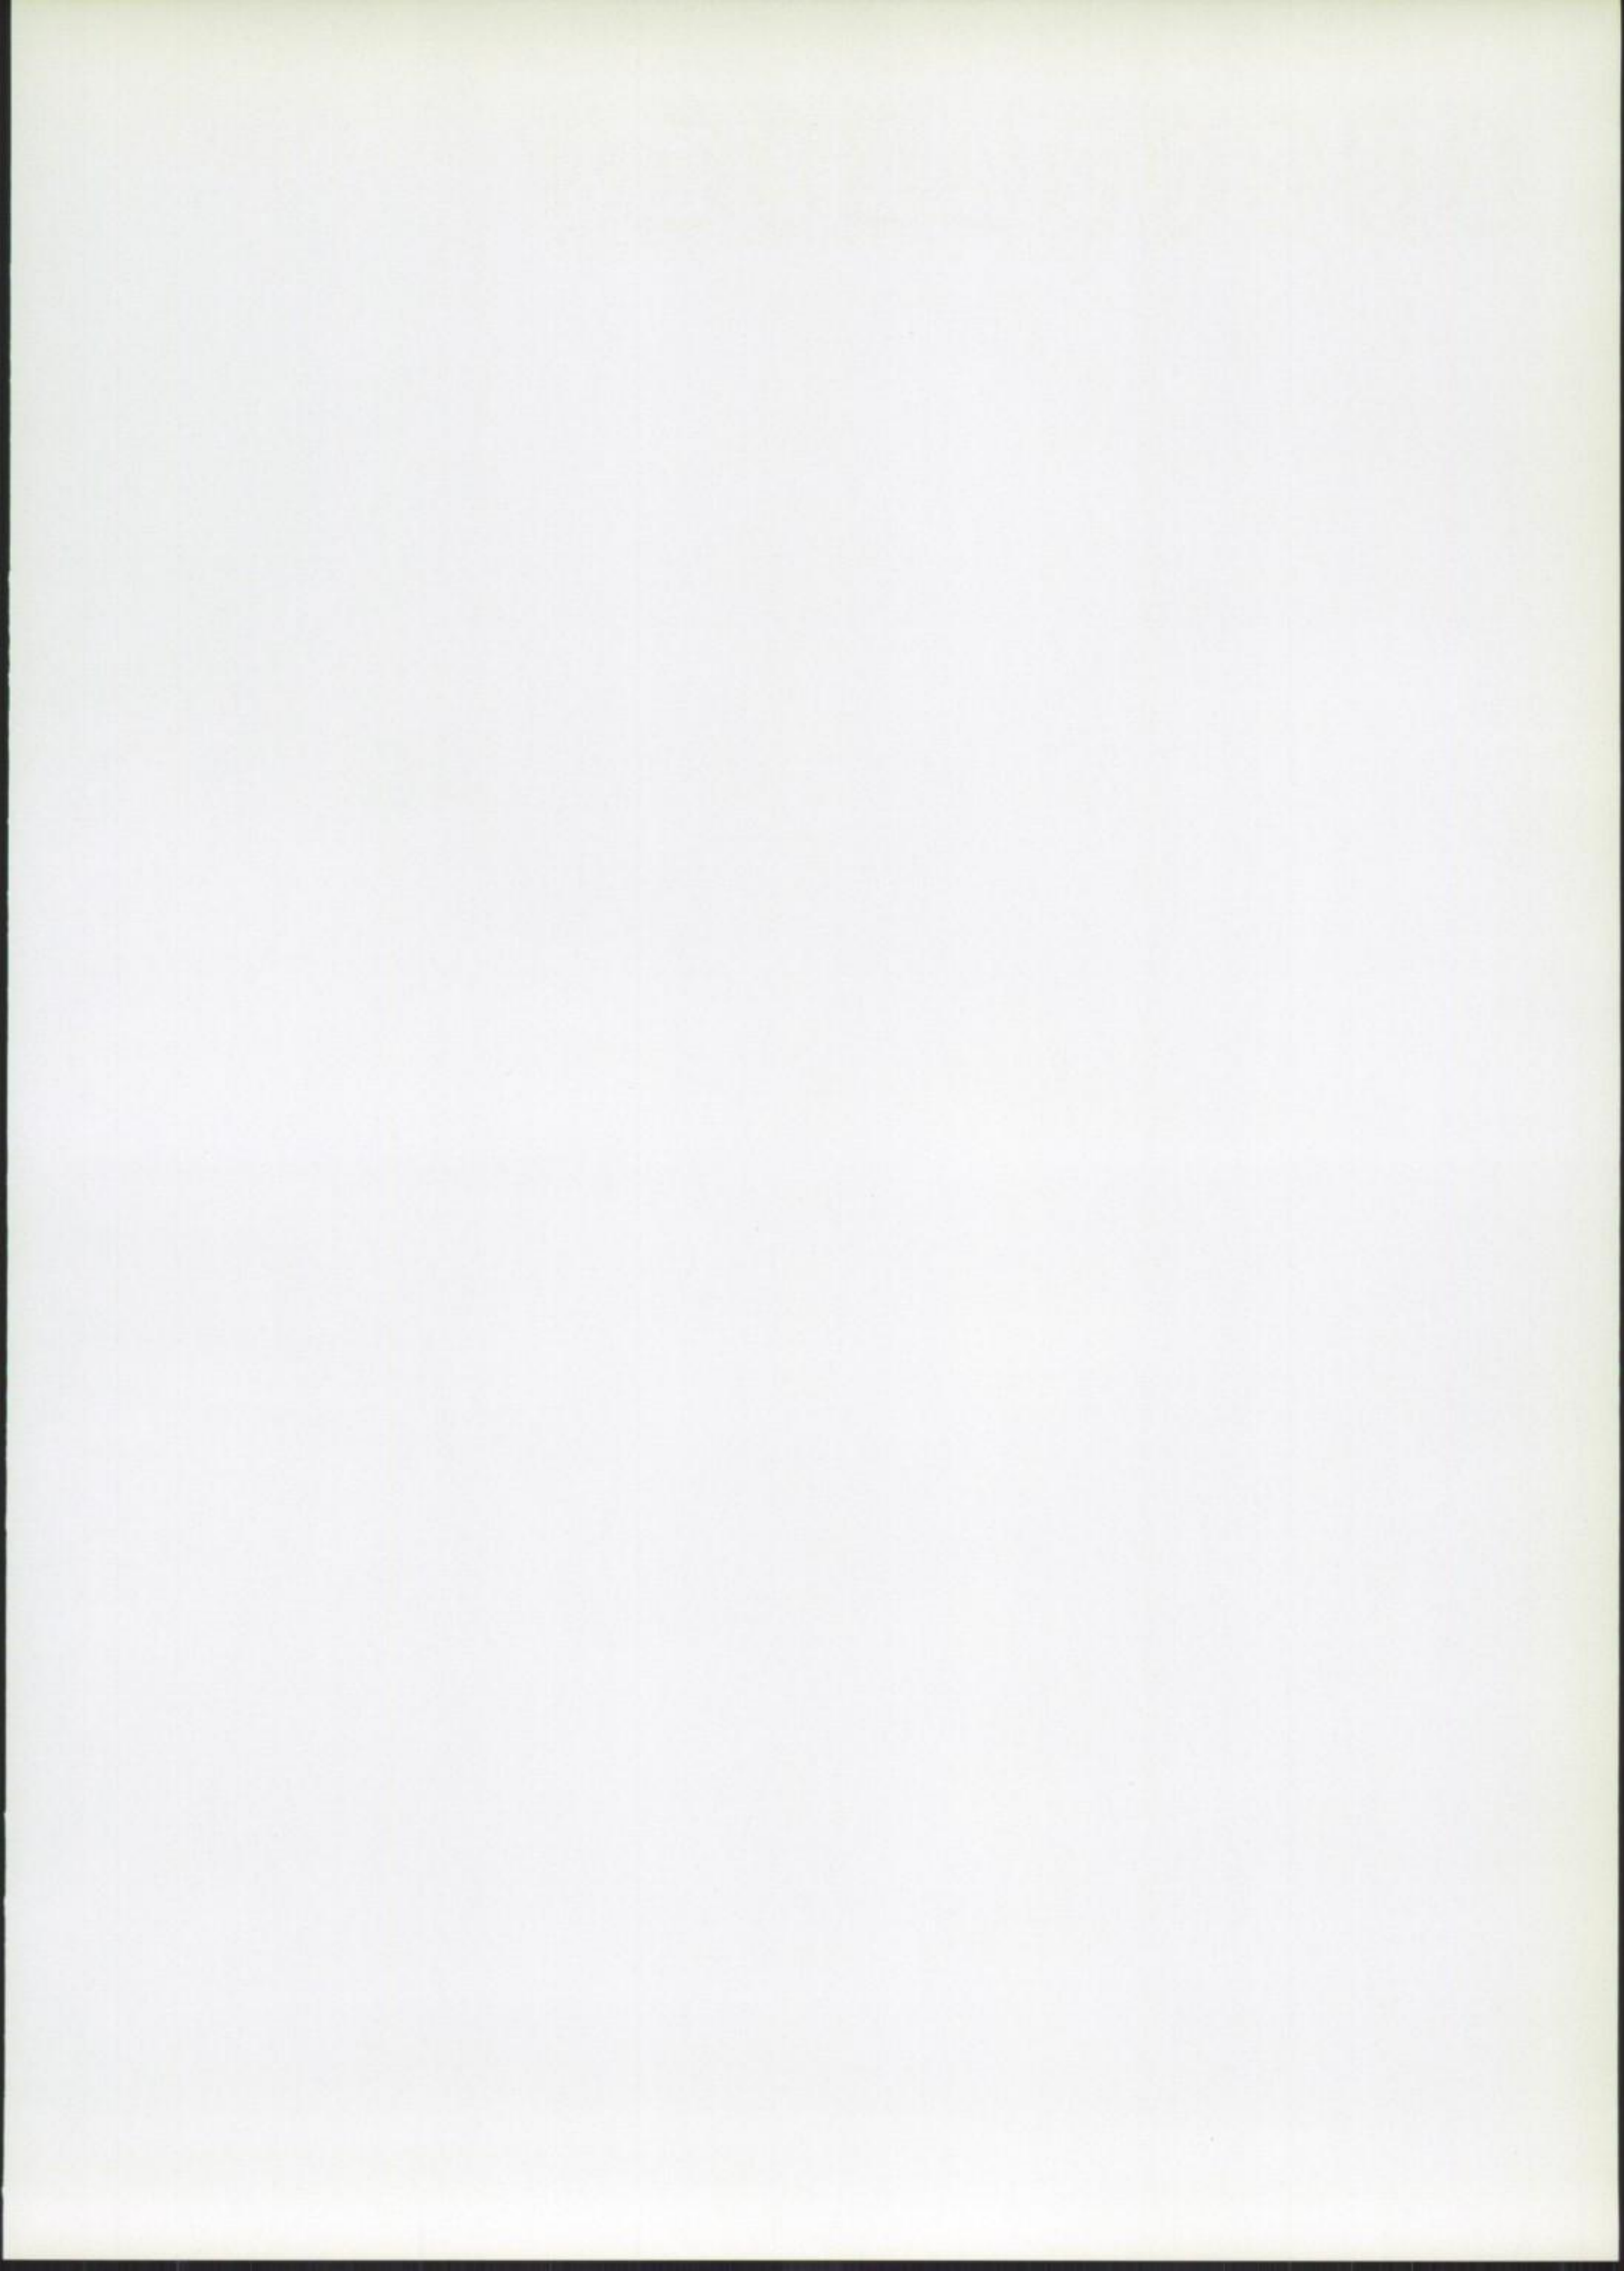

A lot of people had to put up with my tears, headaches, and tantrums. I only hope they understand me now.

Most of all, though, I have to thank you, the reader. Without you, I wouldn't have an "editor's page" to say thanks!

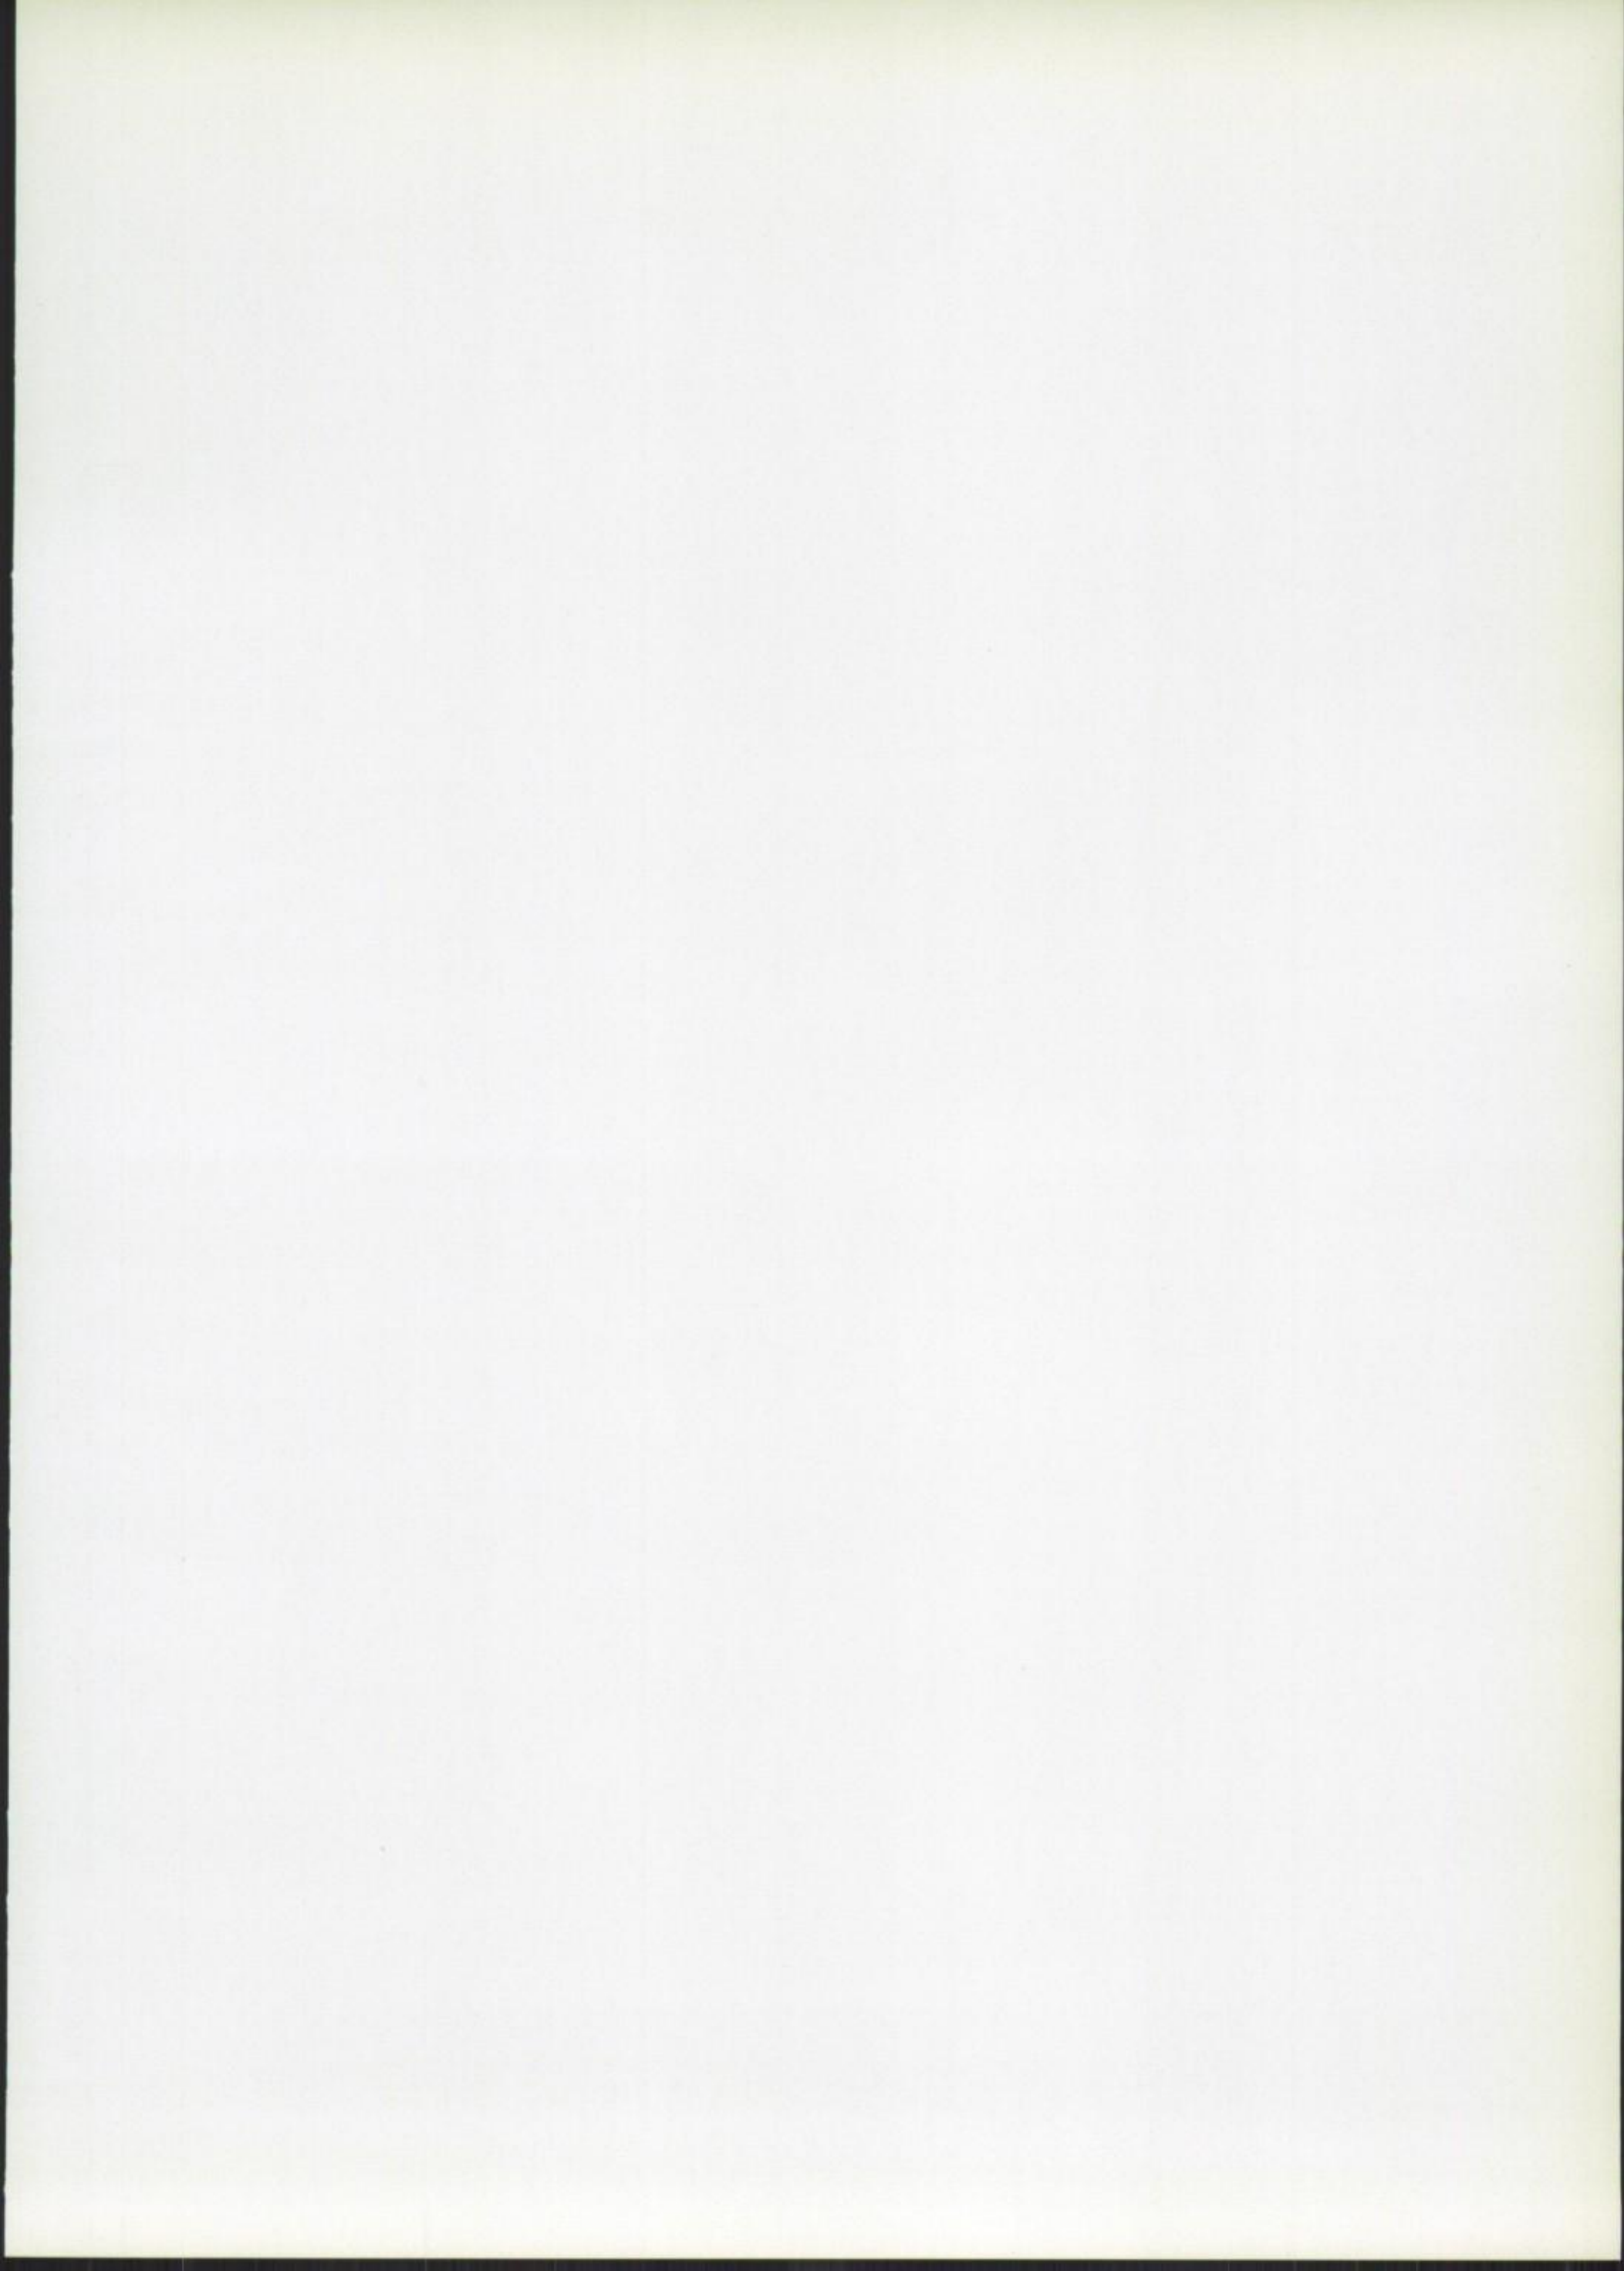

Thanks
